Glenn George Marshall

23 November 1932 - 30 June 2026

Glenn George Marshall, age 93, passed away peacefully on 30 June 2026 in York, Pennsylvania. He was born on 23 November 1932 in Providence Hospital, Highland Park, Michigan to George Victor Marshall and Viola Marshall, Nee: Schoen.

For 65 years, Glenn was a devoted husband to Joanne Jean Marshall, Nee: Olive, known to family and friends as “Bunny.” He was a loving father to son Mark George Marshall and daughter Jann Louise Marshall Nakoski, and a proud grandfather to Vanessa Flora-Nakoski and Scott Nakoski.

A consummate “car guy,” Glenn applied for his driver’s license on his 14th birthday, promptly bought a 1932 Chevy for $200, and used it to ferry members of his high school foot team. Until 2025, he was a professional driver shuttling cars for Hertz Rent-a-Car and volunteering to drive members of the community to appointments.

Glenn graduated from the University of Michigan with a BS in Engineering and practiced engineering at Westinghouse, and as a Planning Specialist and a Marketing Manager at Lord Corporation in Erie, Pennsylvania.

In his free time, he enjoyed square dancing with Bunny and he was still dancing—sort of—in 2026. The family was active in Lakewood United Methodist church, Millcreek, Pennsylvania. After Glenn and Bunny retired, they traveled, hiked the Smoky Mountains, and enjoyed volunteering at the annual National Story Telling Festival in Jonesborough, Tennessee.
